

O what scenes of future glory! Who would miss them! Brother, Sister, you must be there. Whatever you lose here, be determined to make sure of a home there. . . . It will be an eternity of bliss, a blessed eternity, unfolding new glories throughout the ceaseless ages. — Testimonies, Vol. 8, p. 131.

“O sing unto the Lord a new song; for He hath done marvelous things: His right hand, and His holy arm, hath gotten Him the victory. The Lord hath made known His salvation: His righteousness hath He openly shewed in the sight of the heathen. He hath remembered His mercy and His truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God. Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise. Sing unto the Lord with the harp; with the harp, and the sound of a psalm. With trumpets and the voice of a psalm. Let the sea roar, and the Lord, the King. Let the hills be joyful together before the Lord; for He cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall He judge the world, and the people with equity.” Ps. 98.

Now therefore let your faith in the Word renew your love in the truth and in the promise of the future glory:

This is trim area

Please Note: You are looking at the first actual print page of this tract, as you will notice the top panels are upside down. After printing, this page will be folded twice and trimmed to an actual tract size page.

This is trim area

SCRIPTURAL INDEX—(Cont.)

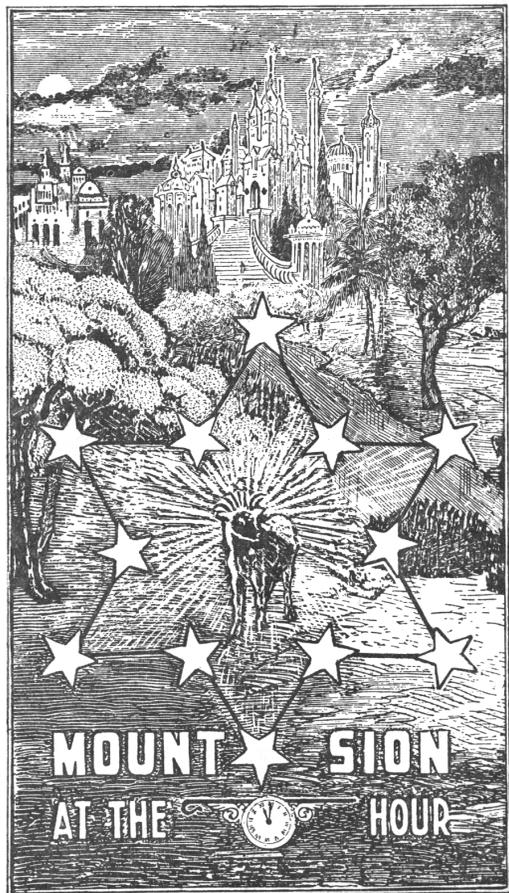

11:11 .....	54	JOHN:
34:23, 24 .....	19	2:15, 16 .....	28
34:23-25 .....	47	12:26 .....	100
36:23-33, 36 .....	26-27	14:3 .....	108
37:16 .....	11	18:36 .....	73
37:16-25 .....	14-16	ACTS:
37:26-28 .....	17	1:15 .....	9
DANIEL:		2:1 .....	32
2:44 .....	17, 63	2:2 .....	32
2:45 .....	63	2:41 .....	9
4:20-22 .....	24	2:47 .....	9
7:9, 10 .....	6	13:46 .....	9
7:11 .....	6	ROMANS:
7:13 .....	6	8:19-23 .....	67
8:14 .....	59	9:24-26 .....	12
9:26, 27 .....	9	11 .....	82-85
12:1 .....	22, 23	1 CORINTHIANS:
HOSEA:		10:11 .....	101
1:10 .....	12	GALATIANS:
1:11 .....	13, 43	3:29 .....	8
2:18 .....	66	EPHESIANS:
3:4, 5 .....	13	5:27 .....	47
3:5 .....	43	1 THESSALONIANS:
JOEL:		4:16, 17 .....	108
2:2 .....	60	HEBREWS:
2:32 .....	64	6:11, 12 .....	105
3:1, 2 .....	38	11:8, 9 .....	99
3:9-12 .....	20	11:25 .....	8
OBADIAH:		1 PETER:
17-21 .....	64	4:7 .....	73
NAHUM:		2 PETER:
1:15 .....	54	3:10-13 .....	108
ZECHARIAH:		REVELATION:
2:5, 11 .....	81	1:1 .....	3
3:9 .....	63	2:26, 27 .....	64
10:6-12 .....	68-69	4:1 .....	5
12:3 .....	20, 31, 59	4:2 .....	6
12:8 .....	18, 58, 59	4:3, 4 .....	5
12:8, 9 .....	31, 61	4:5 .....	5
13:1 .....	18	4:6 .....	5
14:20, 21 .....	31	5:1, 11 .....	6
MALACHI:		5:8, 11, 12 .....	5
3:1-18 .....	40-42	6:15-17 .....	60
4:5 .....	60	7 .....	24
4:5, 6 .....	40	7:1-3 .....	22, 23, 28
MATTHEW:		7:4 .....	11
1:17 .....	10	7:4-9 .....	28
13:30 .....	92	7:9 .....	17, 88
13:31, 32 .....	12	12:17 .....	21
13:47, 48 .....	92	13:11 .....	24
13:48, 49 .....	88	13:15-17 .....	22
13:49 .....	29	13:17, 15 .....	58
21:12, 13 .....	28	14:1 .....	7, 63
21:15 .....	46	14:1-3 .....	4
24:7 .....	22	14:5 .....	18
25:15-30 .....	29	17:16 .....	60
LUKE:		18:4 .....	29
3:23-38 .....	10	20:3 .....	108
14:17-24 .....	56	21:1-3 .....	108
19:12-27 .....	69-70	22:16 .....	46, 93
19:13-27 .....	29	22:19 .....	95
19:14 .....	86
19:15 .....	61

Prior to this prophetic event (the standing of the 144,000 upon Mount Zion) a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard," says John, "was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter. And immediately I was in the Spirit: and behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne. And He that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald. And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads crowns of gold. And before the throne there

“And I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the Mount Zion, and with Him an hundred forty and four thousand, having His Father's name written in their foreheads. And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps: and they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.” Rev. 14:1-3.

tion were to be fulfilled sometime during the New Testament period.

trim marks |

This affirmation that the prophetic events which John was privileged to record, were to "come to pass," not before but "shortly" after his receiving the revelation of them, shows that the prophecies of The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto Him, to shew unto His servants things which must shortly come to pass; and He sent and signified it by His angel unto His servant John." Rev. 1:1.

"The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto Him, to shew unto His servants things which must shortly come to pass; and He sent and signified it by His angel unto His servant John." Rev. 1:1.

Wonder of divine love! fruition of the "exceeding precious promise" that God will continue speaking unto her until she become a great and powerful and splendid in capacity to know and to enjoy and to love, and knowing that there is still beyond us joy and love and wisdom infinite,—such is the object to which the Christians hope is pointing . . . . "—Counsels to Teachers, p. 55.

Mount Zion At "The Eleventh Hour"

"For Zion's sake will I not hold My peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth. And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name. Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God." Isa. 62:1-3.

Wonder of divine love! fruition of the "exceeding precious promise" that God will continue speaking unto her until she become a great and powerful and splendid in capacity to know and to enjoy and to love, and knowing that there is still beyond us joy and love and wisdom infinite,—such is the object to which the Christians hope is pointing . . . . "—Counsels to Teachers, p. 55.

Wonder of divine love! fruition of the "exceeding precious promise" that God will continue speaking unto her until she become a great and powerful and splendid in capacity to know and to enjoy and to love, and knowing that there is still beyond us joy and love and wisdom infinite,—such is the object to which the Christians hope is pointing . . . . "—Counsels to Teachers, p. 55.

Wonder of divine love! fruition of the "exceeding precious promise" that God will continue speaking unto her until she become a great and powerful and splendid in capacity to know and to enjoy and to love, and knowing that there is still beyond us joy and love and wisdom infinite,—such is the object to which the Christians hope is pointing . . . . "—Counsels to Teachers, p. 55.

Wonder of divine love! fruition of the "exceeding precious promise" that God will continue speaking unto her until she become a great and powerful and splendid in capacity to know and to enjoy and to love, and knowing that there is still beyond us joy and love and wisdom infinite,—such is the object to which the Christians hope is pointing . . . . "—Counsels to Teachers, p. 55.

Wonder of divine love! fruition of the "exceeding precious promise" that God will continue speaking unto her until she become a great and powerful and splendid in capacity to know and to enjoy and to love, and knowing that there is still beyond us joy and love and wisdom infinite,—such is the object to which the Christians hope is pointing . . . . "—Counsels to Teachers, p. 55.

Copyright, 1937, 1941
All Rights Reserved
V. T. HOUTEFF

TRACT NO. 8
REVISED EDITION

2008 Reprint

The Universal Publishing Association

Tel: 860 798-3672
email: upa5453@gmail.com

(Italic Type Ours)

"To dwell forever in this home of the blessed, to bear in soul, body, and spirit, not the dark traces of sin and the curse, but the perfect likeness of our Creator, and through ceaseless ages to advance in wisdom, in knowledge, and in holiness, ever exploring new fields of thought, ever finding new wonders and new glories, ever increasing in capacity to know and to enjoy and to love, and knowing that there is still beyond us joy and love and wisdom infinite,—such is the object to which the Christians hope is pointing . . . . "—Counsels to Teachers, p. 55.

Behold ". . . the crystal river and green fields, the shining city and the white-robed singers, of our heavenly home,—that world of beauty which no artist can picture, no mortal tongue describe. 'Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him.'" I Cor. 2:9.

SCRIPTURAL INDEX

GENESIS:
15:13-16	103	11:11	10, 65
19:1	100	11:12	10
19:16, 24, 25	101	11:13	11
49:10	43	11:16	74
EXODUS:		14:20	90
12:3-6	28	16:1	94
19:8	78	16:2	94, 95
20:1-17	79	16:3	94, 97
NUMBERS:		16:4	94, 96
9:11	28	16:5	94, 97
DEUTERONOMY:		25:3, 4	97
2:9, 19	100	25:7-10	67
23:3, 4	104	27:12	10
28:1-9	78	28:16-23	42-43
JUDGES:		29:23	90
11:16-18	103	30:25	60
18:9	93	30:27, 28	90
RUTH:		32:1, 2	43
4:13-22	96	32:2	96
1 SAMUEL:		32:8	90
8:5	49	33:13-19	90, 91
8:7	48, 49	33:24	67
17:8-11	57	35:3-10	92
17:32, 40, 49-51	57, 58	40:10	44
22:2	55	41:2, 3, 25	61
24:3, 4	55	45:18	108
26:7-12	55	49:1-6	86
31:4	48	49:7-14	86-87
31:6	55	49:15-17	87-88
1 KINGS:		49:18-26	88-89
11:11, 12	11	52:1	92
12:19, 27	11	52:1-15	75-76
18:40	61	55:4-6	61
2 KINGS:		60:11	20
17:6	8	60:12	20
1 CHRONICLES:		60:13	47
17:11-13	62	60:14	20
22:6-8	61	62:1-3	3
2 CHRONICLES:		62:12	26
20:15, 19, 24-30	20	63:1-4	23
30:3	28	66:16	74
30:13	28	66:19, 20	17, 86
PSALMS:		JEREMIAH:
36:7	97	3:1-4, 12-16	39
63:7	97	3:17	39, 43
87:4-6	9	3:18	39
91:15	100	4:23-29	108
103:1-5	68	30:2, 3	80
110	107-108	30:3	61
PROVERBS:		30:8	80
29:2	62	30:9	61, 80
ISAIAH:		31:22	81
2:2-4	19	31:31-34	77
4:3	25, 74	31:34	79
4:4	25, 81	31:35-37	82
4:5, 6	26, 74	50:4-8	106-107
9:6-8	44	51:18	23
11:1-5	44	51:20-23	23
11:2-5	46	EZEKIEL:
11:6-9	65	9	24, 86
11:10	64	9:4	74
		9:6	24
		11:3	53

“As the light and life of men was rejected by the ecclesiastical authorities in the days of Christ so it has been rejected in every succeeding generation. Again and again the history of Christ’s withdrawal from Judea has been repeated. When the

Those who wait for the minister to accept the message before they, themselves, act upon their convictions, will never come to the knowledge of the truth. Says the Spirit of Prophecy:

“We desire that every one of you do show the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end: that ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.” Heb. 6:11, 12.

“I am astonished,” says the Lord’s servant, “that with the examples before us of what man may be, and what he may do, we are not stimulated to greater exertion to emulate the good works of the righteous. All may not occupy a position of prominence; yet all may fill positions of usefulness and trust, and may, by their perseverance and fidelity, do far more good than they have any idea that they can do. Those who embrace the truth should seek a clear understanding of the Scriptures, and an experimental knowledge of a living Saviour. The intellect should be cultivated, the memory taxed. All intellectual laziness is sin, and spiritual lethargy is death.” — Testimonies, Vol. 4, p. 399.

power, in the beauties of holiness from the womb of the morning; thou hast the dew of thy youth. The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek. The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of His wrath. He shall judge among the heathen, He shall fill the places with the dead bodies; He shall wound the heads over many countries. He shall drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall He lift up the head.” Ps. 110.

“Remember Lot’s wife.”

“Escape for thy life.”

Thus towers forth the structure of truth, sending forth the message that the kingdom is to be restored by the antitypical prophet Elijah, just before the close of probation, but that the earth being unfit for saints to dwell on it eternally, Jesus shall therefore “come again” and receive all the redeemed (both those who are raised from their graves and those who shall be found alive at His coming—1 Thess. 4:16, 17), and shall take them to the mansions above, which He has gone to prepare (John 14:3). Then as the saints ascend and the wicked die, the earth will be left empty and dark (Jer. 4:23-29) for a thousand years (Rev. 20:3), after which the Lord shall descend with the saints (Rev. 21:1-3), purify the earth with fire (2 Pet. 3:10-13), and fit it anew for the saints’ eternal abode (Isa. 45:18)!

Similarly, as the two tribes (the kingdom of Judah) were carried away into Babylon, to human reckoning.

The ten tribes (the kingdom of Israel) were carried away, scattered throughout the cities of the Medes (2 Kings 17:6), and so completely submerged in the sea of life of the surrounding nations, and assimilated, that they were utterly lost sight of, racially,

Not Necessarily of the Present Identifiable Jewish Stock

Regardless, therefore, whether one be Jew or Gentile, he can have no part in the kingdom of Christ, save through the second birth, by which he becomes one of the seed of Abraham. This spiritual transformation, nevertheless, does not fix anyone’s racial identity and tribal lineage. It can not, in other words, make one Judate if he is not descended of Judah, or make him Ephraimite, if he is not descended of Ephraim. Consequently, the 144,000, being of the sons of Jacob, cannot be of the Gentile nations. They therefore, first of all, are lineal descendants of Jacob, though Christ, born again, heir of the kingdom according to the promise! This is what Jesus meant when He declared to Nicodemus: “Ye must be born again.” And Paul, having this experience in mind, says: “If ye be Christ’s, then are ye Abraham’s seed, and heirs according to the promise.” Gal. 3:29.

was a sea of glass like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts full of eyes before and behind.” Rev. 4:1-4, 6.

“And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints. And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the beasts and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.” Rev. 5:8, 11, 12.

The Lamb, standing at first before the throne in heaven, stands later with the 144,000 on Mount Zion, upon earth, though the Elders and the Beasts round about the throne remain in heaven. So, correctly to understand this prophetic event in its entirety, we must carefully differentiate the part which takes place in heaven from the part which takes place on earth.

The seven lamps’ (verse 5) being part of the sanctuary fixtures, gives conclusive evidence that the heavenly throne-scene occurs in the sanctuary, whereas the subsequent Sion-scene takes place upon Mount Zion the King’s earthly palace grounds, not upon Mount Moriah, the sanctuary grounds

Whosoever has been converted to Christianity, accepting Christ as his personal Saviour, has had an experience which has completely overturned and revolutionized his former plans and hopes, his entire way of life. He has renounced the world and all its "pleasures of sin for a season" (Heb.

Israelites Indeed—Not Gentiles.

Its now being clear as to when the 144,000 emerge, increased interest follows as to who they are. Seeing that they are followers of the Lamb (Christians), also "sons of Jacob," they are therefore time the King of kings. He is then the Saviour, He is at the same standing before the judgment reveals Him as a King. Correlated, they show that while his vision of "the Lion of the tribe of Judah" (Rev. 14:1) reveals Christ as a Saviour, whereas the "Lamb standing on Mount Zion" (Rev. 14:1) reveals Christ as a Saviour, whereas

And as John saw the 144,000 standing on Mount Zion with the Lamb after the judgment was set and before it was closed, the event consequently comes neither before nor after the judgment, but during it.

And finally he saw the "Son of man," Christ, the Advocate, brought before the "Ancient of days." Accordingly, both Daniel and John saw "the judgment . . . set, and the books . . . opened."

where it would necessarily have to take place were it to denote that the event occurs in the sanctuary. These scenes therefore are of two different events, in two different locations—the setting of the throne in heaven, and the standing of the redeemed with the Lamb on earth while the activities embraced in the throne-scene are still in progress.

Moreover, the statement, "I will show thee things which must be hereafter," places the events in the Christian period. And the statement, "stood a Lamb as it had been slain" (bleeding in the sinner's behalf), places them in probationary time.

Then from a comparison of Daniel 7:9, 10, 13, with Revelation 4:2 and 5:1, 11 (already quoted), the fact is clear that both visions are of the same event—the judgment. The one reveals it occurring in the period of the non-descript beast's second stage, after its horn which had the eyes of a man and a mouth speaking great things had blasphemed (after the reign of Ecclesiastical Rome), and before the beast was slain and his body given to the burning flame (Dan. 7:11) before Rome's destruction. And the other vision reveals it taking place sometime in the Christian period, and within probationary time.

Daniel saw thrones cast down, and the "Ancient of days," the Judge, sit, showing that neither He nor the thrones were there beforehand. Evidently on the rest of the

"In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together, going and weeping: they shall go, and seek to Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us join ourselves to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten. My people hath been lost and devoured them: and their adversaries said, Reformers preached the word of God, they had no thought of separating themselves from the established church; but the religious leaders would not tolerate the light, and those that bore it were forced to seek another class, who were longing for the truth. In our day few of the professed followers of the Reformers are actuated by their spirit. Few are listening for the voice of God, and ready to accept truth in what ever guise it may be presented. Often those who follow in the steps of the Reformers are forced to turn away from the churches they love, in order to declare the plain teachings of the Word of God. And many times those who are seeking for light are by the same teaching obliged to leave the church of their fathers, that they may render obedience."—The Desire of Ages, p. 232, par. 2.

We offend not, because they have sinned against the Lord, the habitation of justice, even the Lord, the hope of their fathers. Remove out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he goats [leaders] before the flocks." Jer. 50:4-8.

"The time has come for a thorough reformation to take place. When this reformation begins, the spirit of prayer will actuate every believer, and will banish from the church the spirit of discord and strife. Those who have not been living in Christian fellowship will draw close to one another. One member working in right lines will lead other members to unite with him in making intercession for the revelation of the Holy Spirit. There will be no confusion, because all will be in harmony with the mind of the Spirit. The barriers separating believer from believer will be broken down, and God's servants will speak the same things. The Lord will cooperate with His servants. All will pray understandingly the prayer that Christ taught His servants: 'Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.' Matt. 6:10."—Testimonies, Vol. 8, p. 251.

"The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at My right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. The Lord shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies. Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy

O, Brother, Sister, have you the faith of Lot? "All these things happened unto them for ensamples: and . . . are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come." I Cor. 10:11. O let us, then, follow in the footsteps of these great men of God, trusting His immutable or in His eternal kingdom! the paternal lineage of the Lord of Glory, had a part in the movement itself, or in family, stock, etc.," he never would have fertile, and the climate agreeable to my and know for a surety that the land is proves successful. I shall first investigate no chance, but shall wait until this venture ing him in this most momentous event of Had he waited, though, for greater evi-

19:16, 24, 25). Sodom before it was reduced to ashes (Gen. delivered him from the doomed city of earthly danger, heaven-sent angels even eternal blissings, and while surrounded with resurrection day, and rejoice in throughout shall realize through Christ at the glad progenitors of Christ (a blessing which he lasting blessing of being one of the earthly Besides receiving, consequently, the ever- land, knowing not whether he was going. from both his father's house and his home- tion and that, in order to do so, he departed ham in his newly-found and strange reli-

in fulfilling prophecy. Shall not Christians avoid the mistakes and blunders of the past, and without hesitating, join God's people on their onward march toward the antitypical promised land? Or will any in this enlightened age stubbornly disregard the Word of God, and oppose His people, as did the Moabites and the Ammonites, who consequently lost both their kingdom and eternal life? Oh, what a catastrophe, after having thus been enlightened by the Word of truth, to hear spoken against oneself the same dreadful sentence which excluded the Moabites and the Ammonites from the congregation of the Lord!—

"An Ammonite or Moabite shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the Lord forever: because they met you not with bread and with water in the way, when ye came forth out of Egypt; and because they hired against thee Balaam the son of Beor of Pethor of Mesopotamia, to curse thee." Deut. 23:3, 4.

The Moabites' hiring of Balaam calls attention to the fact that, in the antitype, those who should be welcoming and blessing God's people will, instead, with promises of money and fame, be hiring false-hearted servants to curse them. But we are comforted by the truth (in type) that that which God has blessed, no man can curse.

Hearing Christ's teachings, then rejecting them and crucifying Him, the Jewish nation brought upon their heads the doom which God pronounced upon them when through His prophet he declared: "Ye are not My people, and I will not be your God," though at the same time, in His great mercy, He let the promise be written: "In the place where it was said unto them [ancient Israel], Ye are not My people, there it shall be said unto them [ancient Israel], Ye are the sons of the living God." (See Romans 9:24-26).

God." Hos. 1:10. Ye are not My people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living number; and it shall come to pass, that the sea, which cannot be measured nor children of Israel shall be as the sand of Matt. 13:31, 32. "Yet the number of the come and lodge in the branches thereof." is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it man took, and sowed in his field: which a "The kingdom of heaven," said Christ, "is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a

One Great Kingdom.

Israel, and for reuniting them in the ingathering of the twelve tribes of proceed, better understand God's plan for they are designating, and will thus, as we "Joseph," he will understand precisely who with only a few returning to Jerusalem after the seventy years of their captivity was accomplished, a multitude also of them lost their identity.

Then, too, the early Christian church was made up of Jews only: the apostles, the 120 in the upper room (Acts 1:15), and the 3,000 who were converted on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2:41) were all Jews, as were, indeed, virtually all those who "were added daily" for the first three and a half years after the crucifixion (Dan. 9:26, 27; Acts 2:47). And even after this period was over, and the apostles were commissioned to take the gospel to the Gentiles (Acts 13:46), many more Jews became Christians, and subsequently, as Christians rather than as Jews, were scattered among the nations.

Clearly, therefore, in each instance most of the sons of Jacob lost their racial distinctiveness. As the Lord, however, has ever kept the genealogies of all nations, especially of the sons of Jacob, He will, as He has promised, "make mention of Rahab and Babylon to them that know me: behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia; this man was born there. And of Zion it shall be said, This and that man was born in her: and the highest himself shall establish her. The Lord shall count, when He writeth up the people, that this man was born there. Selah." Ps. 87:4-6.

Thus just as obvious as strange is the fact that no one today but the recognized Jew

Both the Moabites and the Ammonites being the descendants of Lot, and Lot being one with Abraham, also the Edomites being the descendants of Esau, Jacob's twin brother, to all of whom God declared, "but

"The great obstacle both to the acceptance and to the promulgation of truth, is the fact that it involves inconvenience and reproach. This is the only argument against the truth which its advocates have never been able to refute. But this does not deter the true followers of Christ. These do not wait for truth to become popular. Being convinced of their duty, they deliberately accept the cross, with the apostle Paul counting that our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; with one of old, esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt."—The Great Controversy, pp. 380, 460.

Word, and acting upon it without the slightest hesitation! Follow not in the way of those who doubted, questioned, and criticized, and who, in fatal consequence, never arrived at the knowledge of the truth. Of such who lived at the time of the early Advent Movement, church history says: "Multitudes, trusting implicitly to their pastors, refused to listen to the warnings; and others, though convinced of the truth, dared not confess it, lest they should be put out of the synagogue;"

in the fourth generation they shall come hither again" (Gen. 15:13-16), they should therefore have known that the time had come for the fulfilment of that long-expected event, and should accordingly have been ready for it, or, had they lost sight of the truth, then they should have recalled it when they saw the movement that was now at their very borders. Had they believed in Abraham's God as Lot believed, they would not have refused to let the children of Israel, their blood relatives, pass through their country to the promised land, but rather would have joined with them, as Lot joined with Abraham, to help them possess it.

Indeed, the Moabites went so far in their hostility toward their relatives that they even hired Balaam to curse them, in spite of the fact that God, in putting the Israelites in mind of His promise to Lot, commanded them that they harm not their brethren (Judges 11:16-18).

Thus in declining to welcome them and to grant them safe conduct through the land, the Moabites not only refused to acknowledge God's wondrous providence, but also rejected Him in the person of His people whom they well knew He had led with signs and wonders, out of the land of Egypt.

May this tragic lesson penetrate into the innermost hearts of all today, and cause them to acknowledge God's mighty power

Going back for a moment to the historical approach to our subject, we recall that after Solomon's death, the Israelite nation (the twelve tribes) was divided into two separate kingdoms (1 Kings 11:11, 12; 12:19, 27). The ten-tribe kingdom, occupying the northern portion of the promised land, was called "Israel," also Ephraim, and occasionally the house of Joseph; "Israel," because of its majority of tribes; Ephraim (Isa. 11:13), because its kings came from Ephraim; and Joseph (Ezek. 37:16), because he was the father of Ephraim. But the two-tribe kingdom, occupying the southern portion, was called "Judah," because its kings were of the tribe of Judah, and therefore its descendants are called "Jews." The term "Israel," accordingly, often applies only to the ten tribes. So when henceforth in these pages, the reader comes upon the terms, "Judah," "Israel," "Ephraim," and

The Terms Israel, Ephraim, Joseph.

Israel." Rev. 7:4. And though we know not what we are, and cannot ever of ourselves tell, the One Who knows all about us, even to the last hair of each head, knows our precise ancestry, although those of us who are to be gathered from the seed of Jacob are, says the prophet, "as the sand of the sea," whereas, comparatively speaking, the identifiable Jewish race of today, is but a handful to the nations, and therefore cannot today be the ones to whom apply can vouch for his ancestry, with the result that the 144,000 can be gathered from almost every nation, kindred, tongue, and people, and yet be of the sons of Jacob!

"And it shall come to pass in that day," says the Word of prophecy in this connection, "that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of His people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea. And He shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall beat off from the channel of the river unto the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel." Isa. 11:11, 12; 27:12.

Since, therefore, history, logic, and scripture combine their evidences to prove unconditionally that God has preserved the genealogy of the chosen branch of the human race forward from Adam to Noah (Matt. 1:1-17), and backward from Jesus to Adam (Luke 3:23-38), He must, then, for a consistent reason, also have preserved the identity of the elect today. And this, we see, is precisely what He has done in His designating the lineage of the 144,000, as "of all the tribes of the children of

Since according to this scripture the establishment of Christ's throne is yet future, and since furthermore it is to be set up in the tabernacle of David (the which did not take place at His first coming judgment, and hastening righteousness." Isa. 16:5. "And in mercy shall the throne be established; and He shall sit upon it in truth in the tabernacle of David, judging, and seeking judgment, and hastening righteousness."

And "therefore," exclaims the Gospel prophet also, "shall the strong people glory thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee. For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall." Isa. 25:3, 4.

Sent to "take counsel, execute judgment; make" His "shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday; hide the outcasts; bewray not him that wandereth" (Isa. 16:3), Christ, our "hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest" in a weary land, "is a great and perfect shadow, even as midnigh at noonday. So also exclaims the Psalmist: "How excellent is Thy lovingkindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of Thy wings. Because Thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of Thy wings will I rejoice." Ps. 36:7; 63:7.

prophets and even put them to death! For this reason God honored Lot with the greatest gift heaven could bestow upon a human being—sharing the earthly parentage of the Lord of Glory, the eternal King!

Although, furthermore, Lot's descendants, the Moabites and the Ammonites, were no better than the other heathen, yet for Lot's sake, God did not deal with them, as He did with the rest of the heathen, but commanded Moses to "distress not the Moabites, neither contend with them in battle: for I will not give thee of their land for a possession; because I have given Ar unto the children of Lot for a possession." "And when thou comest nigh over against the children of Ammon, distress them not, nor meddle with them: for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ammon any possession; because I have given it unto the children of Lot for a possession." Deut. 2:9, 19.

And "if any man serve Me," said Jesus, "let him follow Me; and where I am, there shall also My servant be: if any man serve Me, him will My Father honour." John 12:26. Also "he shall call upon Me," says the Psalmist, "and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him." Ps. 91:15.

Aside from the happy deed of showing hospitality to the angels who visited Sodom (Gen. 19:1), the noblest act in the spotty record of Lot's life is that he joined Abra-

This illustrated prophecy scarcely needs to be interpreted, as it is virtually self-explanatory: showing that the two ancient kingdoms, Judah and Israel, will yet be gathered from among the "heathen," among whom they have long been scattered, and that they will become again one great

Ezek. 37:16-25. "And I will be their God, and David My servant shall be their prince for ever."

Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land; and I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all: neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwellings, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be My people, and I will be their God. And David My servant shall be king over them; and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in My judgments, and observe My statutes, and do them. And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob My servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, even they, and their children, and their children's children for ever: and My servant David shall be their prince for ever."

So, happily, the same people, Israel and Judah, who were set aside and scattered, will "in that day" (our time) be reaccepted and "gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land." Hos. 1:11.

Having abode "many days without a king" (their lot from the days of their captivity in Babylon even to this very day), "the children of Israel shall . . . afterward" (sometime in the future), says the scripture, ". . . return, and seek the Lord their God, and David their king; and shall fear the Lord and His goodness in the latter days." Hos. 3:4, 5.

But as David, the king of ancient Israel, had been dead for many years when this prophecy was made, and as it has never been fulfilled, he was the type of the David to come.

Accordingly, it is those who "fear the Lord and His goodness [the Christian Israelites] in the latter days" (our time), who shall appoint one "head" or "king"—the antitypical David.

(For a complete study of Hosea 1 and 2, read our Tract No. 4, The Latest News For Mother.)

From the clear-cut facts in the preceding paragraphs, we see that the children of Israel, dispersed and without a king these "many days," are to "return," not as Jews, but as Christians. This consolidation of the kingdom, and the consequent restitution of

So with the ushering in of this everlasting more." Isa. 2:2-4.

nation, neither shall they learn war any nation shall not lift up sword against shares, and their spears into pruninghooks: and they shall beat their swords into plow: the nations, and shall rebuke many people: from Jerusalem. And He shall judge among go forth the law, and the word of the Lord will walk in His paths: for out of Zion shall and He will teach us of His ways, and we Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and let us go up to the mountain of the many people shall go and say, Come ye, and all nations shall flow unto it. And rains, and shall be exalted above the hills, shall be established in the top of the mountain, that the mountain of the Lord's house, "it shall come to pass," as says Isaiah, theocratic government (in the last days), His Own hands" (Testimonies to Ministers, p. 300), and again rules the church as a When the Lord thus takes "the reins in a prince among them." Ezek. 34:23, 24.

also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land." Zech. 13:2. That is, at the time that this gospel-proclaiming kingdom is set up, it will be a church without guile—free from all idolaters and false teachers. And it shall be fed by "one shepherd . . . even My servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. And I the Lord will be their God, and My servant David a prince among them." Ezek. 34:23, 24.

great multitude,—see our Tract No. 1, Pre-Eleventh Hour Extra!; The Shepherd's Rod, Vol. 1).

The fact that "in their mouth was found no guile" (Rev. 14:5), plainly goes to show that they are to proclaim nothing but pure gospel truth, and makes their words as authoritative and as mandatory as the written words of the prophets and of the apostles. Indeed these first fruits are invested with even greater power and authority: "In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the Lord before them." Zech. 12:8.

Also "in that day," further says Zechariah, "there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for sin and for uncleanness." Zech. 13:1.

When this fountain "for sin and for uncleanness" is finally opened "to the house of David," the crowning evidence will be seen that the consolidation of the two kingdoms is an accomplished fact, and that the time has come for the proclamation of the gospel in all the world.

And "it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and shall take away his part out of the book of words of the book of this prophecy, God

"If any man shall take away from the

the following scripture:

lay one under the fearful condemnation of cance or importance to the verses, would thing with God. So to attach no significant, an imperfection—an impossible-then it were naught but a piece of vain repetition, prophetic tenor without time or reason, in short, merely a mystical rhapsody of space in the Bible to record it. Were it, either the prophet's time to write it or get along without this scripture, we may of the Bible. Indeed, if God's people could case-hardened infidel to the certain truth holds lessons calculated to convert even the language of cadenced mysticism, yet it rain nothing more than the cabalistic Though this passage may seem to con-ing righteousness." Isa. 16:1-5.

judging, and seeking judgment, and hast-upon it in truth in the tabernacle of David, the throne be established: and he shall sit summed out of the land. And in mercy shall the spoiler cease, the oppressors are con-the spoiler: for the extortioner is at an end, be thou a covert to them from the face of Let Mine outcasts dwell with thee, Moab; outcasts; bewray not him that wandereth. night in the midst of the noonday; hide the execute judgment; make thy shadow as the be at the fords of Arnon. Take counsel, the nest, so the daughters of Moab shall life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book." Rev. 22:19.

As Isaiah's words, therefore, must contain light, the absence of which, leaving dark our path, exposes us to the risk of falling with the blind headlong into the pit, the diligent searcher for truth will discover that though the passage appears obscured and involved in mystery, it is plain and simple when seen in the light which shines from above.

"Send ye the lamb to the ruler of the land from Sela to the wilderness, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion."

The definite article, "the," lends absolute meaning to the noun, "lamb," showing that a lamb the only one of its kind, was the object of the command to send "the lamb" from Moab "to the mount of the daughter of Zion"—Mount Sion in Jerusalem.

"For it shall be, that, as a wandering bird cast out of the nest, so the daughters of Moab shall be at the fords of Arnon." That is, the lamb had to be taken from Moab because the Moabites were to be "cast out" "as a wandering bird," "at the fords of Arnon." Isa. 16:2.

Sacred history records that the one lamb taken from Moab before the Moabites were "cast out of [their] nest," was the One of Whom John the Baptist said: "Behold the

"But when he seeth his children, the work of Mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify My name, and sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel." "Behold, the name of the Lord cometh from far, burning with His anger, and the burden thereof is heavy: His lips are full of indignation, and His tongue as a devouring fire: and His breath, as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and there shall be

"Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered? But thus saith the Lord, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children. And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob." Isa. 49:18-26.

"I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children. And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob." Isa. 49:18-26.

The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there: and the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away." Isa. 35:3-10.

Inasmuch as both the "field" with the wheat and tares (Matt. 13:30), and the "net" with the good and bad "fish" (Matt. 13:47, 48), represent the gospel church during the period in which the saints and the hypocrites are commingled, then the "vessels" into which the "good fish" are placed after the "bad" are cast away "from among" them, and the "barn" into which the "wheat" is placed after the "tares" are separated from it, must necessarily represent the church passing from its unclean state (field or net) into another, its purified state, which is symbolized, not by the "field" or by the "net," but rather by a "barn" and by "vessels"—a new place safe and clean—where "henceforth there shall no more come . . . the uncircumcised and the unclean." Isa. 52:1.

So no matter what the term we may give to this new place into which the saints are to be gathered, the place, itself, will be —the New World, "the earth."—ters are in the two-horned beast's dominion that in this period, the church's headquar- house" (Ezek. 9:6)—a fact which reveals represent "the ancient men . . . before the rulers, therefore the trees in this instance Daniel 4:20-22, trees are figurative of naturally grow. And as according to (Rev. 13:11), the only place where trees up, not out of the sea, but "out of the earth" symbol of the two-horned beast's coming Old Country. It is located to John in the correspondingly a domain away from the try; the earth, the opposite of the sea, is birth-place of the nations—the Old Coun- is therefore in the realm of symbols the nature the storhouse (home) of the waters, ferent locality: the sea, in the realm of sea," each of which is indicative of a dif- all the world—both "the earth" and "the the hurting by the angels (Rev. 7) include and Israel,—the hurting by the winds and (Ezek. 9) include only the church,—Judah Although the marking and the slaughter

Testimonies, Vol. 5, p. 211; Vol. 3, p. 267. vision."—Testimonies to Ministers, p. 445; is the same that was shown to Ezekiel in same: "This sealing of the servants of God el saw, are again identified as one and the and the slaughter and marking which Ezek- This hurting and sealing which John saw, is the same as the angels' hurting. fulfilled. So, therefore, as the marking is purification by slaughter has never been as the Lord never does anything without forewarning His church, He is now sending to her the message of purification, in order to give her a foretaste of future glory, so that as heaven's clarion call to reformation continues sounding forth among His people, they may have a keen relish for its truth, and may give themselves wholeheartedly to the work of reform, right now while He is clearly laying before them His plan for the setting up of His kingdom with consequent results to the sinners. Those who give implicit heed to the call, shall have an irresistible desire to come fully into line and to have the Lord separate them from sin and sinners. They alone shall receive the seal of God and as the first fruits of the kingdom, 144,000 strong, stand with the Lamb on "Mount Zion"!

Such a state of holiness will today, just as in the past, cause the dragon to be wroth with the woman, also now to make war with her remnant (Rev. 12:17), a conflict which is further described in the words:

"I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth [at the time of the sealing of the 144,000], holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree. And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, saying, Hurt

Since "in the Revelation all the books of the Bible meet and end" (The Acts of the Apostles, p. 585), the sealing of the servants of God (Rev. 7) must necessarily be found also in the prophecies. In Ezekiel, chapter nine, is envisioned the marking of those who sigh and cry "for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof" (in Judah and in Israel), and the slaughter of those who do not thus sigh and cry. And the fact that God has at no time taken the sinners from among the righteous in Judah and in Israel, shows that this prophecy of

From these facts we see that this time of trouble is held back in order to safeguard the sealing of the 144,000 servants, lest they, "the very elect," be brought down to worship the image of the beast, or be killed for refusing.

Revelation 7:1-3, therefore, reveals a two-fold conflict: wicked men against God (the blowing of the winds) and God against them (the angels hurting them). But through the blowing of the winds and the hurting of the angels after the servants of God are sealed, will bring the "time of trouble," yet "every one that shall be found written in the book" "shall be delivered." Dan. 12:1.

From these facts we see that this time of trouble is held back in order to safeguard the sealing of the 144,000 servants, lest they, "the very elect," be brought down to worship the image of the beast, or be killed for refusing.

not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads." Rev. 7:1-3.

Here are brought to view two hurtings about to take place: one by the winds, the other by the angels; and two commands to the angels: one that they restrain the winds, that the winds blow not "on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree" (verse 1); the other that the angels restrain themselves from hurting "the earth, . . . sea," and "the trees," till the servants of God are sealed. Verses 2, 3. Since, therefore, as soon as the servants of God are sealed, both the winds and the angels will begin to hurt, the question arises as to what the work of the winds and the work of the angels represent—political strife or something else? As the nations have always been at war, this two-fold work of hurting could not represent political strife. And as Jesus says that at the time of the end "nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom" (Matt. 24:7), it is clear that the hurting by the winds, also the hurting by the angels, both of which are kept back until the 144,000 are sealed, must be figurative of holding back the "time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation." Dan. 12:1. Accordingly, God's restraining of the four winds is His holding back the image of the beast's activity (Rev. 13:15-17) against the saints, while His restraining the four angels that they hurt not is His holding back the executing of His

"Hear, ye that are far off; what I have done; and ye that are near, acknowledge My might. The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devout; and among us shall dwell with the everlasting burnings? He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of

But the liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand. Because the palaces shall be forsaken; the multitude of the city shall be left; the forts and towers shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wilderness, a pasture of flocks; until the Spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest. Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field. And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever. And My people shall dwell in a peacable habitation, and in sure dwellings; and in quiet resting places; when it shall hail, coming down on the forest; and the city shall be low in a low place. Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of the ox and the ass." Isa. 32:8; 14:20.

a bride in the jaws of the people, causing them to err." Isa. 29:23; 30:27, 28.

blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil; he shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure.

"Thine eyes shall see the King in His beauty: they shall behold the land that is very far off. Thine heart shall meditate terror. Where is the scribe [secretary]? where is the receiver [treasurer]? where is he that counted [statistical secretary] the towers [conference presidents]? Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a deeper speech than thou canst perceive; of a stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand [thou shalt speak and understand all the languages]." Isa. 33:13-19.

"Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence; He will come and save you. Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes. And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called

"Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far: The Lord hath called me [Israel] from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath He made mention of my name. And He hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of His hand hath He hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in His quiver hath He hid me; and said unto me, Thou art My servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified. Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and

"O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are His judgments, and His ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath seen His counsels? Or who hath first given to Him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? For of Him, and through Him, and to Him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen." Rom. 11.

"As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the faith's sakes. For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance. For as ye have now obtained mercy through their unbelief: even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy. For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that He might have mercy upon all.

children shall make haste; thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee." Isa. 49:15-17. That is, the sinners will be taken out of her, cast away "from among the just." Matt. 13:48, 49.

"Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee, as a bride doeth. [See Zechariah 8:23; The Shepherd's Rod, Vol. 2, p. 281.] For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction, shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away. [That is, a great multitude is to join the church, but the sinners shall be kept out of it.] The children which thou shalt have [those who shall be gathered in], after thou hast lost the other [those who fell in the slaughter of Ezekiel Nine], shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell. Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where had they been? [This question shows that the church is ignorant of the great multitude of Revelation 7:9—the second fruits.] Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up Mine hand to the Gentiles, and set up My stand-over, The Shepherd's Rod, Vol. 2, p. 256.) Extrai, and for the antitype of the Passover, see our Tract No. 1, Pre-Eleventh Hour (For further treatment of the two sealings companies—first fruits and second fruits, erings, two sealings, two separations, two showing still again that there are two gath- fication of the church in two sections, thus Chron. 30:13), thereby is typified the puri- it in the second month (Num. 9:11; 2 permitted to prepare for it and to celebrate in the Passover in the first month, but were Ex. 12:3-6) were forbidden to participate themselves sufficiently" (2 Chron. 30:3; since, too, all who "had not sanctified took place at the feast of the Passover, and Since both of these cleanings, moreover, the "great multitude." Rev. 7:1-9. and again at the sealing of the second fruits, the sealing of the first fruits, the 144,000, He will twice cleanse His church: once at the closing of the Christian dispensation, by twice gave warning in type that also in (John 2:15, 16; Matt. 21:12, 13), He there- cleansed the temple from the unholy prac- tices by which the Jews had desecrated it at the opening of the apostles—Special Testimonies to Ministers, No. 7, p. 54) He istry, and once at the close of His work and pensation, at the beginning of Christ's min- dom, and in the opening of the gospel dis- John the Baptist's proclamation of the king- sinners. As twice (once in the closing of cleanse the entire church from sin and Desire of Ages, p. 161); and second, to

In the light of the clear cut facts before us, we see that the main object of the sealing or marking of the servants of God is to cleanse the church from sin and sinners, so that she may be able to stand strong against the image-beast in the time of trouble; and that when this purifying work is completed, "it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in Jerusalem: when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning." Isa. 4:3, 4.

When this "special work of purification, of putting away of sin among God's people," is accomplished, then "the church is to enter upon her final conflict. 'Fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners,' she is to go forth into all the world, conquering and to conquer."—The Great Controversy, p. 425; Prophets and Kings, p. 725.

"And the Lord will create upon every dwelling place of Mount Zion, and upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defence. And there shall be a tabernacle for a shadow in the day time from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from

Though many variously raise their voices against God's establishing "the seed of Israel" as a righteous and holy nation free from sinners, they shall fail to overthrow the plans of Him Who "gives the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar; The Lord of hosts is His name: if those ordinances depart from before Me, saith the Lord, then

"How long," says the Lord, "wilt thou go about, O thou backsliding daughter? for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall compass a man." Jer. 31:22. This "woman" must be symbolic, for no one person can possibly encompass another. She must, for this reason, be a symbol of the church, and the "man" must be Christ, Who shall at that time "have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion"—purified the church (Isa. 4:4; Testimonies, Vol. 5 p. 80). Then will He "be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her and . . . will dwell in the midst of" her. Zech. 2:5, 11.

"How long," says the Lord, "wilt thou go about, O thou backsliding daughter? for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall compass a man." Jer. 31:22. This "woman" must be symbolic, for no one person can possibly encompass another. She must, for this reason, be a symbol of the church, and the "man" must be Christ, Who shall at that time "have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion"—purified the church (Isa. 4:4; Testimonies, Vol. 5 p. 80). Then will He "be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of" her and . . . will dwell in the midst of" her. Zech. 2:5, 11.

the root and fatness of the [good] olive tree; boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou [Gentile] bearest not the root, but the root [the Jew] thee. Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in. Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith.

"Be not highminded, but fear: for if God spared not the natural branches [the unbelieving Jews], take heed lest He also spare not thee. Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, if thou continue in His goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off. And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again. For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree? For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in. And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Zion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob: for this is My covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

"Only those," says the Spirit of Prophecy, "who have withstood and overcome temptation through the strength of the Mighty One will be permitted to act a part in proclaiming this message when it shall have swelled into the Loud Cry."—Review and Herald, Nov. 19, 1908.

And that the Loud Cry fail not to sound on time or at all, those who do not overcome, those who "had betrayed their trust,"—"the ancient men, those to whom God had given great light, and who had stood as Every true Bible student knows that the church must reach this purity of heart and character and position, not after, but before, Christ's mediatorial work is finished and before the "sacrifice" has ceased. All such students know also that God can neither manifest His great power to defend them in the time in which "all the people of the earth gather together against" them, nor bestow His Spirit upon them as He did upon the early Christians on the day of Pentecost, if there are sinners among His people, and if the entire church be not "with one accord" (Acts 2:1), "clad in the armor of Christ's righteousness . . . Fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners"—as was the apostolic church, upon which the Spirit descended as a "rushing mighty wind." Acts 2:2.

no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord."

"There must be," says the Spirit of Prophecy, "a cleansing of the institutions similar to Christ's cleansing of the temple of old. 'It is written,' saith the Lord, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves. There are in our institutions today transactions similar to those that took place in the temple courts in Christ's time; and all heaven is looking on. . . . The Lord will work to purify His church. I tell you in truth, the Lord is about to turn and overturn in the institutions called by His name. Just how soon this refining process will begin, I cannot say, but it will not be long deferred. He Whose fan is in His hand will cleanse His temple of its moral defilement. He will thoroughly purge His floor.'"—Brethren in Responsible Positions, Sept. 1895.

In parabolical preview of the purification of the church, Christ declared: ". . . the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just" (Matt. 13:49)—take away the wicked and leave the good; whereas in The Revelation, addressing His own in Babylon, He says: "Come out of her My people" (Rev. 18:4)—calling the righteous out and leaving the wicked in. The former are purified by the wicked's being cast out from among them; the latter, by their being taken out from among the wicked.

Also there are two distinct parables of the talents (Matt. 25:15-30; Luke 19:13-

These verses expressly declare that the church will be "as God," during the time of Lord before them, when the nations shall gather against her, and the Lord in vengeance shall then smite them. Probation still lingering while this sequence of events takes place, "all they that sacrifice" (an act which is performed before the close of probation) shall therefore be holy, and "there shall be

21. the Lord of hosts." Zech. 12:3, 8, 9; 14:20, be no more the Canaanite in the house of see the therein: and in that day there shall sacrifice shall come and take of them, and unto the Lord of hosts: and all they that Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness bowls before the altar. Yea, every pot in pots in the Lord's house shall be like the HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the shall there be upon the bells of the horses, come against Jerusalem." "In that day I will seek to destroy all the nations that And it shall come to pass in that day, that God, as the angel of the Lord before them. David; and the house of David shall be as is feeble among them at that day shall be as the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that against it. In that day shall the Lord defend people of the earth be gathered together it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people: all that burden themselves with make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all been destroyed), says the Lord, "will I

27), both of which pointedly enter the picture in its present setting. In the one, are three servants; in the other, ten servants. This significant difference shows that the former has only a local application, whereas the latter has a world-wide application (incidentally showing, as does The Shepherd's Rod, Vol. 2, pp. 85, 86, that in the Scriptures, number "ten" stands for universality, and number "three" for the Trinity in the church.)

These unalterable truths of type and parable and "the word of His testimony," bring us face to face with the solemn reality that we are come to the time of the antitypical passover and cleansing of the temple, and to the harvest of the world,— "the great and dreadful day of the Lord." The Spirit of God bids us "with awful solemnity, Get ready! get ready! get ready! for the fierce anger of the Lord is soon to come. His wrath is to be poured out, unmixed with mercy, and ye are not ready. Rend the heart, and not the garment."— Early Writings, p. 119.

O let no one be misled into thinking that after the close of probation, or after the second coming of Christ (after the sinners in the world have been destroyed), God's church shall attain to the exalted standard of character, and to the high office, appointed of heaven, and be purified from sin and sinners! On the contrary, "in that day" (before the sinners in the world have otherwise work is no more work. it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it by grace, then is it no more of works: this present time also there is a remnant knee to the image of Baal. Even so then at thousand men, who have not bowed the him? I have reserved to myself seven But what saith the answer of God unto and I am left alone, and they seek my life. prophets, and digged down thine altars; Israel, saying, Lord, they have killed Thy he maketh intercession to God against not what the scripture saith of Elias? how His people which He foreknew. Wor ye tribe of Benjamin. God hath not cast away Israel, of the seed of Abraham, of the people? God forbid. For I also am an "I say then, Hath God cast away His thus become of the planting of the Lord. Christ, shall be grafted into it, and only rent Gentiles by virtue of adoption in must therefore be raised up; then the peni- which has been trodden down, this vine, (the seed of Abraham), the original vine, As the promises are made only to Israel done, saith the Lord." Jer. 31:35-37. all the seed of Israel for all that they have searched out beneath, I will also cast off measured, and the foundations of the earth saith the Lord; If heaven above can be being a nation before Me for ever. Thus the seed of Israel also shall cease from

"What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded. (According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day. And David saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling block, and a recompense unto them: let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.

"I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy. Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness? For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office: if by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them. For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead? For if the firstfruit [the Jew] be holy, the lump [Jew and Gentile] is also holy: and if the root [the Jew] be holy, so are the branches [whether they be original or grafted in]. And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive tree [the Gentile tree], wert grafted in among them, and with them partakest of days come, saith the Lord, that I will bring again the captivity of My people Israel and Judah, saith the Lord: and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it." Jer. 30:2, 3.

These verses show vividly that God is to validate the second covenant when He brings His people again from their captivity, while subsequent verses fix the time of this liberation or ingathering: "For it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him: but they shall serve the Lord their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them." Jer. 30:8, 9.

This prophecy, we observe, did not meet its fulfilment in the return of the Jews from their captivity in ancient Babylon, because at that time God did not "raise up" David their king. They did not, in fact, have any king at all of their own, but were under Medo-Persia rule. The prophecy, therefore, can be applied to no other time than today, when both "Israel and Judah" shall be joined into one great kingdom, established in everlasting righteousness. Then "they shall all know Me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them," says the Lord. Consequently, the fact that there has never been a time from before the glory of the preparatory scenes of the coming of the Son of man."—Word To The Little Flock, p. 8.

Only those who have a part in this anti-typical exodus movement will be privileged to sing "the song of Moses and the Lamb," and to share in the promises of

The Covenant in the Antitype.

"Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which My covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the Lord: but this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the Lord, I will put My law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be My people. And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know Me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more." Jer. 31:31-34.

The old "covenant" or agreement between God and His people was based upon the promises of both parties; to wit: "And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt guardians of the spiritual interests of the people,"—must be removed. "This is forcibly set forth by the prophet's illustration of the last work under the figure of the men each having a slaughter weapon in his hand."—Testimonies, Vol. 3, p. 266. "Men, maidens, and little children, all perish together." Id., Vol. 5, p. 211.

Confronted with the towering certainty of the church's imminent purification, sealing, and subsequent glory, we hasten to face the Church's Condition Just Before The Purification.

"What greater deception can come upon human minds than a confidence that they are right, when they are all wrong! The message of the True Witness finds the people of God in a sad deception, yet honest in that deception. They know not that their condition is deplorable in the sight of God. While those addressed are flattering themselves that they are in an exalted spiritual condition, the message of the True Witness breaks their security by the startling denunciation of their true condition of spiritual blindness, poverty, and wretchedness. The testimony, so cutting and severe, cannot be a mistake, for it is the True Witness who speaks, and his testimony must be correct."—Testimonies, Vol. 3, pp. 252, 253.

"Who can truthfully say, 'Our gold is tried in the fire; our garments are unspotted by the world'? I saw our Instructor point-

"When a crisis finally comes, as it surely will, and God speaks in behalf of his people, those who have sinned, those who have been a cloud of darkness, and who have stood directly in the way of God's working for his people, may become alarmed at the length they have gone in murmuring and in bringing discouragement upon the cause; and, like Achan, becoming terrified, they may acknowledge that they have sinned. But their confessions are too late, and are not of the right kind to benefit themselves, although they may relieve the cause of God. . . ."

"Those who have been nearly all their lives controlled by a spirit as foreign to the Spirit of God as was Achan's, will be very passive when the time comes for decided action on the part of all. They will not claim to be on either side."—Id., pp. 270-272.

"We have been inclined to think that where there are no faithful ministers, there can be no true Christians; but this is not the case. God has promised that where the shepherds are not true he will take charge of the flock himself. God has never made hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all His commandments which I command thee on this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth: and all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God. Blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field. Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep. Blessed shall be thy basket and thy store. Blessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed shalt thou be when thou goest out. The Lord shall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways. The Lord shall command the blessing upon thee in thy storehouses, and in all that thou settest thine hand unto; and He shall bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. The Lord shall establish thee an holy people unto Himself, as He hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in His ways.”

“And all the people answered together, and said, All that the Lord hath spoken we will do. And Moses returned the words of the people unto the Lord.” Deut. 28:1-9; Ex. 19:8.

“Those who work in the fear of God to rid the church of hindrances, and to correct grievous wrongs, that the people of God may see the necessity of abhorring sin, and may prosper in purity, and that the name of God may be glorified, will ever meet with resisting influences from the un consecrated. Zephaniah thus describes the true state of this class, and the terrible judgments that will come upon them:—

“And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles, “God’s displeasure is upon his people, and he will not manifest his power in the midst of them while sins exist among them, and are fostered by those in responsible positions.

- 35 -

“The burden of this work upon them; let them not stand in the way of those who have this duty to do. Some make it a point to question, and doubt, and find fault, because others do the work that God has not laid upon themselves. These stand directly in the way to hinder those upon whom God has laid the burden of reproving and correcting prevailing sins, that his people may be turned away from his people. Should a case like Achan’s be among us, there are many who would accuse those who might act the part of Joshua in searching out the wrong, of having a wicked, fault-finding spirit. God is not to be trifled with, and his warnings disregarded with impunity by a perverse people.

* * *

ing to the garments of so-called righteousness. Stripping them off, He laid bare the defilement beneath. Then He said to me: ‘Can you not see how they have pretentiously covered up their defilement and rottenness of character, How is the faithful city become an harlot? My Father’s house is made a house of merchandise, a place whence the divine presence and glory have departed! For this cause there is weakness, and strength is lacking.’”—Id., Vol. 8, p. 250.

“The ancient men, those to whom God had given great light, and who had stood as guardians of the spiritual interests of the people, had betrayed their trust. . . . These dumb dogs, that would not bark, are the ones who feel the just vengeance of an offended God. Men, maidens, and little children, all perish together.”—Id., Vol. 5, p. 211.

“It is difficult for those who feel secure in their attainments, and who believe themselves to be rich in spiritual knowledge, to receive the message which declares that they are deceived and in need of every spiritual grace. The unsanctified heart is ‘deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked.’”—Id., Vol. 3, p. 253.

“There are many who do not have the discretion of Joshua, and who have no special duty to search out wrongs, and to deal promptly with the sins existing among them. Let not such hinder those who have

This first covenant reaches from the time it was ordained to the imminent and final ingathering of the twelve tribes as a kingdom. And yet, though never invalidated by God, its validity has been persistently negated by the New Testament church, and its sanctity violated by both the Old and New Testament churches, until this very day. So as the people, failing their promise, have broken God’s commandments, they thereby also have broken “the covenant that God made with their fathers.” But in the new covenant, which the Lord is now about to fulfil, the commandments of God (Ex. 20:1-17), unlike in the old will not be written on tables of stone (Ex. 31:18), but in fleshy tables of the heart, and at that time all shall “know the Lord, . . . from the least of them unto the greatest of them” (Jer. 31:34)—exhibiting a church without tares.

This compact which is about to take place, is the second covenant, and His law, being written on the heart, will be perfectly kept. Then, and not before, will the blessings, which His ancient people failed to receive, be fully realized.

Jeremiah, also bearing witness that this promised covenant has not yet been fulfilled, but that it is to be honored now in the gathering time, declares:

“Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book. For, lo, the iniquity; that thou hast transgressed against the Lord thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed My voice, saith the Lord. Turn, O backsliding children, saith the Lord; for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family; and I will bring you to Zion: and I will give you pastors according to Mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the Lord: neither shall it come to mind: neither shall they remember it; neither shall they visit it; neither shall that be done any more. At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the Lord; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it; to the name of the Lord, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart. In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers. Jer. 3:1-4, 12-18.

Howbeit, saith the Lord: "Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord: and he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of

In the light of Present Truth concerning the kingdom, the following prophecy (111.) read The Shepherd's Rod, Vol. 1, pp. 64-65. (For a more detailed exposition of the Exodus movement in type and antitype, from storm and from rain; Isa. 4:3-6, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert for a shadow in the day time from the heat, and there shall be a tabernacle of defence. And there shall be a night: for upon all the glory shall be a day, and the shining of a flaming fire by upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by every dwelling place of mount Zion, and burning. And the Lord will create upon spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of Jerusalem from the midst thereof by the Zion, and shall have purged the blood of washed away the filth of the daughters of Jerusalem: when the Lord shall have one that is written among the living in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even every is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in "And it shall come to pass, that he that and sinners today.

first-born now, from the bondage of sin 66:16) free the first fruits, the 144,000, His the antitypical passover (Ezek. 9:4; Isa. people from the bondage of Egypt, so shall on the "door posts," released God's ancient born" (first fruits) who had not the blood "passover" and the slaughter of the "first- the land of Egypt." Isa. 11:16. As the Israel in the day that he came up out of be left, from Assyria; like as it was to Lord, "I will also gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and will plead with them there for My people and for My heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted My land." Joel 3:1, 2.

But to be delivered from captivity, and to hear the Lord "plead . . . there" for His people, one dare not spurn now

His Pleading.

"They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again to Me, saith the Lord. Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou hast not been lien with. In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness. Therefore the showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain; and thou hadst a whore's forehead, thou refusedst to be ashamed. Wilt thou not from this time cry unto Me, My Father, Thou art the Guide of my youth?

"Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause Mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. Only acknowledge thine (along with numerous other relevant prophecies) is self-interpreting:

"Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean. Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down [on thy throne], O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the [man-wrought] bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion. For thus saith the Lord, Ye have sold yourselves for nought; and ye shall be redeemed without money. For thus saith the Lord God, My people went down aforetime into Egypt to sojourn there; and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause. Now therefore, what have I here, saith the Lord, that My people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them make them to howl, saith the Lord; and My name continually every day is blasphemed. Therefore My people shall know My name: therefore they shall know in that day that I am He that doth speak: behold, it is I.

"How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth! Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion.

little, have thou authority over ten cities. because thou hast been faithful in a very pound hath gained ten pounds. And He said unto him, Well, thou good servant: Then came the first, saying, Lord, Thy every man had gained by trading. money, that He might know how much called unto Him, to whom He had given the then He commanded these servants to be returned, having received the kingdom, And it came to pass, that when He was will not have this man to reign over us. and sent a message after Him, saying, We till I come. But His citizens hated Him, ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy called His ten servants, and delivered them self a kingdom, and to return. And he went into a far country to receive for Him-

“He said therefore, A certain nobleman includes the following parable: unfateful class with whom Christ con- prayers, lest any of us be found among the prayer to be fulfilled, let us live out our done.” Now that the time has come for the prayed, “Thy kingdom come, Thy will be For centuries, Christ’s followers have supreme privilege to unfailing assurance that ours is the name, saith the Lord.” (Zech. 10:6-12)— And I will strengthen them in the Lord; and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away, pride of Assyria shall be brought down,

Let God Reign Over Us

Thus when Christ returns and reckons with His servants, He rewards the faithful ones in proportion as they have increased the principal with which they started, but condemns those who have had no burden to work for souls and to advance His kingdom, and who have been content to let Him do without their services. For this unfaithfulness, He takes from them the “pound,” (light of truth), with which He had entrusted them, showing thereby that all are to be held responsible “for every ray of light,” for every lost moment, for every neglected opportunity. And those who will not have Him thus reign over them, shall, at His return, be slain before Him as were those who rebelled against God’s government in olden times.

The Jews at Christ’s first advent, misunderstanding His mission because they were blind as to what their message (the ceremonial service) taught, and as to what the prophets wrote concerning Him, misconstrued His doctrine of the kingdom. Dearly coveting the fruition of their long-held hope of the kingdom, they were upset by Christ’s strange teachings, and were ready to stone Him to death rather than to have their errors exposed before the multitude whom they kept in darkness. So it is with the church today. She is as blind to the message of the hour, and to the truth of Christ’s kingdom, as were the Jews in their day. And as the message knocks at her door with warnings, her answer is, Go thy the girdle of his reins.” Isa. 11:1-5. be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness he slay the wicked. And righteousness shall mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall shall smite the earth: with the rod of his equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall he judge the poor, and reprove with hearing of his ears: but with righteousness sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the the Lord; and he shall not judge after the him of quick understanding in the fear of and of the fear of the Lord; and shall make counsel and might, the Spirit of knowledge of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of of the Lord shall rest upon him, the Spirit shall grow out of his roots: and the Spirit umph of God’s purpose, “and a Branch figurative depiction of this glorious tri- of the stem of Jesse,” prophesies Isaiah in “And there shall come forth a rod out “Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and His arm shall rule for Him: behold, His reward is with Him [He will then give them the kingdom] and His work before Him [He will then gather His people].” Isa. 40:10.

Isa. 9:6-8. Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel.” perform this. The Lord sent a word into for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will ment and with justice from henceforth even to order it, and to establish it with judgment, and upon His kingdom, throne of David, robbed Thee? In tithes and offerings. Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed Me, even this whole nation. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in Mine house, and prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts. And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightful land, saith the Lord of hosts.

“Your words have been stout against Me, saith the Lord. Yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against Thee? Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept His ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the Lord of hosts? And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered.

“Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before Him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon His name. And they shall be Mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up My jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

“For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon His shoulder: and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end, upon the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.”

Isa. 32:1, 2.
as rivers of water in a dry place, as the wind, and a covert from the tempest; And a man shall be as an hiding place from ness, and princes shall rule in judgment.
“Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness-the gathering of the people be.” Gen. 49:10.

Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall “The sceptre shall not depart from

Will Be a Theocracy.

Angels’ Messages,
the time of the Loud Cry of the Third their God,” it is evident that the church, in their king” (Hos. 3:5), “and seek the Lord themselves one head (Hos. 1:11), “David again becoming a kingdom, appoint to Jer. 3:17), and as the descendants of Jacob,
p. 80; Testimonies to Ministers, p. 300;
of the flock Himself” (Testimonies, Vol. 5, shepherds are not true He will take charge

As “God has promised that where the 23.
“Give ye ears, and hear My voice;
hearken, and hear My speech.” Isa. 28:16-

Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth Him not.” Mal. 3:1-18.

“Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. Judgment also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.

“And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it. From the time that it goeth forth it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it pass over, by day and by night: and it shall be a vexation only to understand the report. For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it: and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it. For the Lord shall rise up as in Mount Perazim, He shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that He may do His work, His strange work; and bring to pass His act, His strange act. Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord God of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

King of kings and Lord of lords. His ten heavens, “the far country,” to be crowned resurrection, departed to the heaven of is Christ, Himself, Who, soon after His
The “certain nobleman” in this parable them before Me.” Luke 19:12-27.

reign over them, bring hither, and slay enemies, which would not that I should be taken away from him. But those Mine him that hath not, even that he hath shall one which hath shall be given; and from “For I say unto you, That unto every hath ten pounds.)

pounds. (And they said unto Him, Lord, he pound, and give it to him that hath ten them that stood by, Take from him the Mine own with usury? And He said unto that at My coming I might have required gapest not thou My money into the bank, reaping that I did not sow: wherefore then man, taking up that I laid not down, and want. Thou knowest that I was an austere- mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked ser- And He saith unto him, Out of thine own down, and reapest that Thou didst not sow. Thou takest up that Thou laydest not Thee, because Thou art an austere man: kept laid up in a napkin: for I feared behold, here is Thy pound, which I have “And another came, saying, Lord, five cities.

He said likewise to him, Be thou also over Thy pound hath gained five pounds. And
“And the second came, saying, Lord, servants, who are to occupy till His coming, represent, manifestly, the ministry at the closing of the gospel dispensation. And His citizens, accordingly, represent the laity—the subjects of His kingdom. Together, then, His servants and His citizens make up His entire kingdom—church.

As they “sent a message after Him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us,” the only conclusion admissible is that shortly before His return, Christ shall inform His “citizens” that He is taking “the reins in His own hands” to set up His kingdom, and that they, upon hearing the announcement, shall refuse to submit themselves to the one through whom He is to rule.

Observe that in the message which they “sent after Him,” his servants did not say, “We will not have You to reign over us,” but rather, “we will not have this man to reign over us.” What they objected to was Christ’s reigning over them through someone else. Clearly, then, before He is coronated, and prior to His return to reckon with His servants, He appoints a “man” to reign over them in His stead. Whereupon they say to Him, by their attitude and stand toward His message, “We will not have this man to reign over us,” although “this man,” as we now see, is the antitypical David (the “simple means”), the visible king.

"The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the farthing together; and a little child shall lead them. And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice' den. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." Isa. 11:6-9. When this state of knowledge and peace prevails in the kingdom, then "in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: [consequently it is in probationary time] and . . . in that day . . . the Lord shall set His hand again

following scriptures: to smite the nations, is evidenced by the shall use it as His "battle ax" with which infuse the kingdom at the time that God That a heaven-like safety and peace shall iron," and the need and the work of over- coming being not His but His followers, a victorious nation—a kingdom through which He will manifest His great power, and which shall be and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies; Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's." Ps. 103:1-5. (For further study of the subject of continuation of life see our Tract No. 5, Final Warning, pp. 63-65 Revised Edition, 1940.)

A Kingdom of Peace.

"And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again to place them; for I have mercy upon them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will hear them. And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad; their heart shall rejoice in the Lord. I will hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase as they have increased. And I will sow them among the people: and they shall remember Me in far countries; and they shall live with their children, and turn again. I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and place shall not be found for them. And he shall pass through the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the deeps of the river shall dry up: and the

Time has already demonstrated that the S. D. A. organization is fulfilling the type. Preferring to incorporate, and to elect officers by the people's vote, they have thereby manifested that they have cared not so much to please God by being "a peculiar people," as He would have them to be, as they have to please themselves by being as much as possible like the other denomi-

On account of his outwardly kingly appearance, Saul was chosen by the people, as the reader will remember, to be their king, in spite of God's disapproval (1 Sam. 8:7). Then finally when God rejected him and anointed David to be a king in his stead, he was determined to retain the throne by attempting to kill David, but ended up, ever before David ascended it, by deliberately killing himself (1 Sam. 31:4).

ship in the time of the Loud Cry of the Third Angel's Message. This being so, then it necessarily follows that Saul, the first king who reigned over Israel, and who was largely responsible for the early experience of David's life, is a type of the church leadership in the period preceding the Loud Cry—the leadership which was raised up in 1844, and for the sole purpose of gathering the 144,000, the first fruits of the kingdom. In each case, type perfectly matches antitype.

In this illustration there are three persons brought to view: Jesse (the father of David), the rod (David), and the Branch (Christ). The relationship shows that David (the rod) is not Christ (the Branch), for the "rod" sprang from the stem of

Inevitably because he is the only one who perfectly fits the antitype—the leader-

Why David a Type?

some give rise to the question: reigned over Israel, may in the minds of His servant. But the fact that many kings rule of one shepherd and a king—David, peace, safety, and invincibility, under the such thing” (Eph. 5:27), a theocracy of reflected without “spot, or wrinkle, or any Thus His church, or kingdom, is again

And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even My servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. And I the Lord will be their God, and My servant David a prince among them; I the Lord have spoken it. And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.” Ezek. 34:23-25.

“And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even My servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. And I the Lord will be their God, and My servant David a prince among them; I the Lord have spoken it. And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.” Isa. 60:13), saith the Lord.

Jesse, and the Branch from the rod—a fact which is born out in the cry of the multitude when Christ entered Jerusalem. They shouted: “Hosannah to the son of David.” Matt. 21:15. Plainly, therefore, the “rod,” coming from the stem of Jesse, is symbolical of David; and the Branch, coming from the rod, is symbolical of the son of David—Christ.

Upon this “ensign” (Branch and rod) “the Spirit of the Lord shall rest . . . , the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and might, the Spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord; and shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the Lord: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears: but with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.” Isa. 11:2-5.

So though the “ensign” emblemizes the connection of three persons (Jesse, the root; David the rod; and Christ, the Branch), yet the power and wisdom of Christ is its underlying and controlling force. Wherefore says Christ: “I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star” (Rev. 22:16), bearing out that He is all and in all.

shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the in hope, because the creature itself also reason of him who hath subjected the same subject to vanity, not willingly, but by sons of God. For the creature was made creature waiteth for the manifestation of the says: “For the earnest expectation of the Recognizing this fact, the apostle Paul all over again.

As in Noah’s ark, the type, so in the anti-typical ark, the kingdom, nothing shall hurt or destroy: the lion, the wolf, the lamb, the leopard, the calf, and the fat-lamb, the ox, all shall feed on “straw.” Thus now, as in Noah’s time, God shall preserve a remnant of man and beast out of His whole creation, instead of exterminating every living thing, and then creating them

News For Mother.

“And in that day,” says the Lord through His prophet Hosea, in reiteration of His covenant of peace, “will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and I will break the bow and the sword and the battle lie down safely.” Hos. 2:18. (For a detailed treatment of Hosea’s chapters one and two read our Tract No. 4, The Latest News For Mother.) the second time to recover the remnant of His people.” Isa. 11:10, 11.

children of God. For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.” Rom. 8:19-23.

“And He will destroy in this mountain [this kingdom of peace],” says Isaiah, “the face of the covering cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations. He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of His people shall He take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

“And it shall be said in that day [the day in which the Lord wipes away the tears from the faces of all His people], Lo, this is our God; we have waited for Him, and He will save us: this is the Lord; we have waited for Him, we will be glad and rejoice in His salvation. For in this mountain shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Moab shall be trodden down under Him, even as straw is trodden down for the dung hill.” Isa. 25:7-10. “And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.” Isa. 33:24.

“Bless the Lord, O my soul,” exults David, “and all that is within me, bless His holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, kingdom (Luke 19:15), and glorify it with shall visibly appear, take unto Himself His 9). Whereupon Christ (the son of David) destruction of the heathen and the possession of the earth (Zech. 12:8, 9; Jer. 30:3, 22:6-8), therefore the work of Elijah particularly typifies the day of slaughter in defied God and His armies—1 Chronicles David's reign, the lives of the heathen who teachers in Israel—1 Kings 18:40; and (Elijah's message, the lives of the apostate and David's reign took the lives of many perity of His people, both Elijah's message Since, for God's honor and for the pros-found, call ye upon Him while He is near." Isa. 55:4-6.

"Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people. Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee because of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for He hath glorified thee.

"Behold, I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come: from the rising of the sun shall he call upon My name: and he shall come upon princes as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay." Isa. 41:2, 3, 25.

Philistines: and they shall possess the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria: and Benjamin shall possess Gilead. And the captivity of this host of the children of Israel shall possess that of the Canaanites, even unto Zarephath; and the captivity of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the south. And saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau; and the kingdom shall be the Lord's." "And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the Lord hath said, and in the remnant whom the Lord shall call." Obad. 1:17-21; Joel 2:32.

"For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted." Isa. 60:12.

From the foregoing scriptures, we see that as a result of rejecting the truth proclaimed by His church, the wicked go to destruction. And echoing this prophetic pronouncement of their doom, Christ declares: "And he that overcometh, and keepeth My works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I received of My Father." Rev. 2:26, 27.

"He that overcometh" being the one who is to "rule" "the nations" "with a rod of has faithful servants, who in the shaking, God, and he cannot use them. The Lord . . . They are self-sufficient, independent of file. They did not keep pace with the light. purification] stand at the head of rank and genius, or talent, will not then [after the "Those who have trusted to intellect, Prophesy, a representative statement exposed numerous times in the Spirit of ing her authority. This wide-open fact is are today, by the course they pursue, deny- vant, the General Conference, sad to say, acknowledging Sister White as God's ser- disobeyed his words; likewise, though also Prophet, Saul at the same time deliberately Though acknowledging Samuel as God's

I, pp. 471, 472.

the fruit of their labor." Testimonies, Vol. diverted the minds of their hearers from even in the house of God, they have dise, and acting the part of a salesman, course, and then by introducing merchan- desk and preached a most solemn dis- mon things. Ministers have stood in the the evil results of mixing sacred and com- people would have been quick to discern by wrong habits of living; ministers and intellectual faculties had not been clouded "I was shown that if the moral and means, to accumulate. But their object was to get gain, to obtain held for sale were for sacrificial offerings.

them (1 Sam. 8:5, 7). And although chosen by the people, yet the General Conference officers were nevertheless accepted by God to be the rulers over His people now, as Saul was anciently. Just as he betrayed his trust, however, by disobeying the Word of God as spoken to him by the prophet Samuel, so the present church organization, "the ancient men . . . before the house," have, says the prophet to the church today, "betrayed their trust."—Testimonies, Vol. 5, p. 211. (For a more ample treatment of the subject of organization, see our Organization Manual.)

Speaking to the S.D.A. leadership, the servant of the Lord says: "You have no right to manage, unless you manage in God's order. Are you under the control of God? Do you see your responsibility to Him? . . . That these men should stand in a sacred place to be as the voice of God to the people, as we once believed the General Conference to be,—that is past. What we want now is reorganization."—General Conference Bulletin, 34th Session, Vol. 4, Extra No. 1, April 3, 1901, p. 25, Cols. 1 and 2.

This revelatory statement conclusively proves that after the historical Minneapolis meeting in 1888, when the leaders rejected both the message and the counsel which was given them (Testimonies To Ministers, page 468) the Lord did not any longer regard the General Conference as His

Though naught but a stripling despised by his brothers, and but lowly regarded by all the others, David said to Saul: "Let no man's heart fail because of him; thy servant will go and fight with this Philistine. And he took his staff in his hand, and chose him five smooth stones out of the brook, and put them in a shepherd's bag which he had, even in a scrip; and his sling was in his hand; and he drew near to the Philistine. And David put his hand in his bag, and took thence a stone, and slung it, and smote the Philistine in his forehead, that the stone sunk into his forehead; and he

17:8-11. I Sam. were dismayed, and greatly afraid." I Sam. heard those words of the Philistine, they fight together. When Saul and all Israel Israel this day; give me a man, that we may the Philistine said, I defy the armies of shall ye be our servants and serve us. And prevail against him, and kill him, then then will we be your servants: but if I be able to fight with me, and to kill me, you, and let him come down to me. If he ye servants to Saul? choose you a man for battle in array? am not I a Philistine, and cried unto the armies of Israel, and said dom: The giant Goliath had "stood and his army, and were about to take the king- result that the Philistines were besetting him, yet he refused to abdicate, with the Saul was told that the Lord had rejected David to reign in Saul's stead. And though time of the Loud Cry), which shall wound the beast, and with his own sword (the ten horns of Revelation 17:16), cut off his head, and then with fire destroy him, so that the wound shall never heal again. In the message of the hour, therefore, lies the safety of God's people. (For a complete study of the parable of Matthew 20:1-16, and of the beast of Revelation 17, read The Shepherd's Rod, Vol. 2, pp. 222-239; 155, 156.)

Proclaiming "the great and dreadful day of the Lord" (Mal. 4:5), "a day of slaughter" (Isa. 30:25), and "a day of darkness" (Joel 2:2), this last message is to be sounded at the eleventh hour—just before the time in which, as John foresaw, "the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains; and said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of Him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: for the great day of His wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand" (Rev. 6:15-17)?—none but the righteous, the future leaders of the church, as David's reign typifies.

"Who raised up the righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the dust to his

Immediately after Saul was informed by God that because of his unfaithfulness, Samuel had rejected him as ruler over His people, Samuel was sent secretly to anoint the halt, and the blind." Luke 14:17-24. were found in "the streets and lanes" of the city—"the poor, and the maimed, and hand, David's followers typify those who therefore I cannot come." On the other another said, I have married a wife, and them: I pray thee have me excused. And bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove have me excused. And another said, I have and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee Him, "I have bought a piece of ground, to make excuse": The first saying unto who consequently "with one consent began too busy with the cares of this life, and themselves on the grounds that they were figure in the parable those who excused On the one hand, Saul's sympathizers pre- Christ again brings to view both classes. In Luke's parable of the great supper, typified by Saul and his followers. and that those who do not respond, are voice, are typified by David's followers, those who respond to the Good Shepherd's In the foregoing exposition, we see that 1, p. 190; Vol. 5, p. 211. Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 427; Vol. 5, p. 80; Vol. "spued out," rejected—"cut down."—Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 427; Vol. 5, p. 80; Vol. "naked," and of being as a consequence, and miserable, and poor and blind, and critical danger of remaining "wretched, testing time will be disclosed to view."—Id., Vol. 5, p. 80.

"If they continue in this state, God will reject them."—Id., Vol. 6, p. 427.

Just as Saul's outward show resulted, consequently, only in his being dethroned by another king, so likewise shall the great men of today, those who are at the head of the work, and who trust to "intellect, genius, or talent," be replaced by those who, though not having a polished outward appearance, are to be "disclosed to view" at this time, as revealing "the pure brightness of a genuine Christian character." (For further study on the change of leadership, see our Tract No. 2, The Warning Paradox.)

As Saul, furthermore, defied God by refusing to abdicate the throne, and by seeking the life of His anointed, king David, so now at the sounding of the trumpet today, we find the General Conference refusing to let God take the reins in His Own hands (Testimonies to Ministers, p. 300), their attempting to usurp His throne by determining that they are to rule the denomination until the end of this world, and their availing themselves of every chance to cast us out of their midst, in order to safeguard their control of it. Those who are doing this are they whom the prophet Ezekiel prophetically heard saying: "This city is the caldron, and we be the flesh." Ezek. 11:3. They are now doing everything possible to exalt and to perpetuate themselves in power, and to be rid of those who have in the name of the Lord “published peace,” and brought to them the “good tidings” that “the wicked shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.” Nah. 1:15. But “this city shall not,” says the Lord, “be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; but I will judge you in the border of Israel.” Ezek. 11:11.

Those who desire to know the truth for themselves as to what kind of treatment we have received at the hands of the church officials (as did David at the hands of Saul), may read our Tract No. 7, Count the Evidences on Both Sides Before Firing For or Against.

In rejecting the message which has come to them with warnings and reproofs, and in continuing in their evil ways, our brethren are compelling the Lord to cut them down by the slaughter weapons of Ezekiel 9, unless they immediately repent. Though on the way to suicide with Saul, yet they are saying in their heart: “The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil. He is too merciful to visit his people in judgment. Thus peace and safety is the cry from men who will never again lift up their voice like a trumpet to show God’s people their transgressions and the house of Jacob their sins. These dumb dogs, that would not bark, are the ones who feel the just vengeance of an offended God. Men, maidens, and little children, all perish together.”—Testimonies, Vol. 5, p. 211.

As Saul, still further, was responsible for the death not only of his sons, but also of the people, (1 Sam. 31:6), so the ministers will be responsible for the “men, maidens, and little children” who fail to receive the seal, and who consequently perish in the slaughter.

Nevertheless, despite their great sin and certain doom, David, the type, reveals the fact that, though we may cut the skirt of their robes while they are bitter and wroth against us, and are chasing us around the “sheep cotes” (1 Sam. 24:3, 4), or that we may take “the spear and the cruse of water from” their “bolster” while they are in “deep sleep from the Lord,” or that we may, as we find them asleep within the “trench,” or covering their feet in our hiding places (1 Sam. 26:7-12), have them at our mercy, with the power and the opportunity to do them much injury, yet in no case would we hurt them in the least, but rather would befriend them.

And while they are persecuting us, as Saul persecuted David, everyone that is in distress, and everyone that is in debt, and everyone that is in discontent, will, as the type also shows, join us (1 Sam. 22:2); whereas all who are “neither cold nor hot, lukewarm” (satisfied), are, with the angel of the church of the Laodiceans, in it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it. In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the Lord before them.” Zech. 12:3, 8.

The five smooth stones in David’s bag, with one of which he slew Goliath, typify the five-fold power in the antitypical shepherd’s bag (the Bible), with one part of which God shall today smite the beast and his image, the nations—the antitypical Goliath. And since we know that it is by His Word, in the form of a message, that He shall smite the nations, then obviously the five smooth stones represent five messages, the last of which is to wound the beast, destroy his image, and free God’s people from the fear of the heathen.

So as the five stones in the shepherd’s bag are figurative of five messages, the messages therefore, are necessarily scheduled somewhere in the Bible. They are in Christ’s parable of the vineyard: the first, at the “early” hour (the ceremonial system); the second, at the “third hour” (the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ); the third, at the “sixth hour” (the twenty-three hundred days of Dan. 8:14); the fourth, at the “ninth hour” (the judgment of the dead); and the fifth, and last, at the “eleventh hour” (the judgment of the living, the fell upon his face to the earth. So David prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and with a stone, and smote the Philistine, and slew him; but there was no sword in the hand of David. Therefore David ran, and stood upon the Philistine, and took his sword, and drew it out of the sheath thereof, and slew him, and cut off his head therewith. And when the Philistines saw their champion was dead, they fled.” 1 Sam. 17:32, 40, 49-51.

David’s victory over the giant against whom no one was able to make war, typifies the victory of the church (the house of David—Zech. 12:8), in the “time of trouble such as never was,” over the beast and his image (antitypical Goliath), concerning whose formidableness the Revelation asks: “Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?” The giant, Goliath, accordingly, represents those who now defy the servants of God, and who shall comprise the Image of the Beast, that religio-political system which shall defy the armies of the Lord, and issue a decree “that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name . . . and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.” Rev. 13:17, 15.

But “in that day,” saith the Lord, “will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with